

ANNOUNCEMENT

Research Problems

The Journal of Number Theory intends to devote a new section to open problems and conjectures. The statements should be original and placed in the proper mathematical context.

As a rule the contributions will be short papers. They will include the title, the name of author(s), the problem(s) together with motivation and sometimes heuristic arguments, and balanced bibliographical references (usually not only to the author's papers).

The "Information for Authors" on the inside back cover of the Journal holds also for this section. Moreover, if the manuscript is more than one page long the author(s) will provide a summary which will be sent to the members of the editorial board by the managing editor. Indeed, these papers will follow the same refereeing process as the other papers submitted to the Journal of Number Theory.

Contributions should be sent either to the following address:

Journal of Number Theory
Research Problems Section
Department of Mathematics
Ohio State University
Columbus, Ohio 43210, U.S.A.,

or directly to any member of the editorial board, with the mention: "Research Problems Section."
